Greetings from the Chancellor

Dear Graduates:

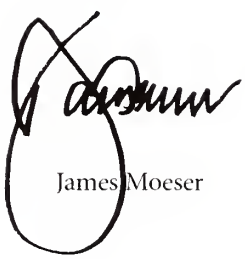
Congratulations to every one of you for completing your degree, and congratulations to all the family members, former teachers, and friends who helped you reach this milestone!

You're now about to take the next step, whether it's starting a career, beginning a family, continuing your education, traveling and seeking adventure, or just taking time out. Wherever your path leads from here, the Carolina faculty and staff all join me in wishing you good fortune. We're proud of you, and we hope your time in Chapel Hill has helped equip you well for the journey ahead.

We all realize that the body of knowledge we share today will grow exponentially in our lifetimes, especially in science and technology. Part of what we know will become obsolete – that's to be expected. But some things do not fade. We believe the values and habits that underlie a Carolina education will stand you in good stead as long as you live: curiosity, openness to new ideas, a desire to learn, rigor in testing underlying assumptions and evaluating new data, confidence in your own judgment, and interest in the world around you both near and far. We also hope that in your time at Carolina you strengthened the ethical and spiritual foundations of your life.

Please keep in touch. Let us know where your path leads you. And come back to Chapel Hill as often as you can! Godspeed.

Sincerely,



James Moeser

Alma Mater

The words of "Hark the Sound," UNC-Chapel Hill's alma mater, were written in 1897 by William Starr Myers, a graduating senior. The Glee Club director asked Myers to put words to the tune "Amici," and the song was first performed on June 2, 1897, as part of the Glee Club's Commencement performance in Gerrard Hall.

Soon the song was almost forgotten. When a University quartet tried a few years later to remember the words, they could recollect only the first verse and the chorus of Myers' original version. Two members of the quartet, Charles S. Mangum and Charles T. Woollen, added two verses to the one they remembered. Mangum later became a professor in the School of Medicine, and Woollen worked as the University's business manager and comptroller.

Hark the Sound

Hark, the sound of Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true,
Singing Carolina's praises,
Shouting N.C.U.!

Hail to the brightest star of all!
Clear its radiance shine!
Carolina, priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.

For Your Information

A sign language interpreter will be on the platform at both the Doctoral Hooding on Saturday and Commencement on Sunday. A student marshal or Disability Services staff member can advise persons with hearing impairments about seating from which to view the interpreter.

This Commencement program is printed prior to administering final examinations. Therefore, including degree candidates' names in this program does not represent certification that candidates have satisfactorily completed degree requirements.

Diplomas for bachelor's, master of science, and master of arts degrees will be printed after Commencement and mailed to graduates. Graduates with master's degrees that contain an area of study in the degree, such as Master of Accounting, may obtain their diplomas in a special departmental or school ceremony or may pick up a diploma from the Office of the Registrar in Hanes Hall until 2 p.m. Sunday. Unclaimed diplomas will be mailed to graduates.

On Sunday, free shuttle bus service will be available from Kenan Stadium to designated south campus parking lots and the Highway 54 and University Mall park-and-ride lots from 11:00 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Special shuttle service will run from the Old Well and Carmichael Auditorium to all park-and-ride lots from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. for the convenience of people attending afternoon ceremonies.

The University Seal

The first seal of The University of North Carolina, designed in 1790, showed the face of Apollo and his emblem, the rising sun, used to symbolize the dawn of higher education in the state. The words "SIGUL UNIVERSITAT CAROL SEPTENT" (Seal of The University of North Carolina) surrounded the drawing. A modification in 1895 added lighted torches of learning beside Apollo's profile. Two years later another alteration replaced Apollo's head with a shield on which the words Lux (light) and Libertas (liberty), separated by a white band running from the upper right to the lower left of the shield, appeared.

In the 1940s some observers mistakenly claimed the white stripe on the shield was a bend sinister, a heraldic code that was demeaning. In truth, the stripe was a bar sinister and merely denoted a second or later son. Still, the direction of the stripe was reversed, removing any question of stigma.

Today's seal is the same as the 1897 version, except the stripe runs from the upper left to the lower right.

UNC-Chapel Hill: The First State University

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill originated in the N.C. state constitution of 1776, which proclaimed that "all useful learning shall be duly encouraged and promoted in one or more universities."

Carolina's charter was approved in 1789 and the cornerstone of the first building, Old East, was laid on October 12, 1793. The University annually celebrates Carolina's birth date each October 12. In 1795 the University opened its doors for students.

The University of Georgia at Athens also claims the honor of "first state University." Georgia's constitution of 1777 lays no foundation for state-supported higher education. The university was chartered in 1785, four years before UNC, and those who claim the honor of "first state university" for Georgia refer to this date.

North Carolinians contend that a university begins not when chartered, but when students first enroll in instructional programs and use the school's facilities.

The University of Georgia did not open until 1801, six years after Hinton James enrolled as the first student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Three years after his arrival Carolina graduated its first class.

James Moeser, Chancellor

Under the leadership of Dr. James Moeser, its ninth chancellor, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's vision for the future is ambitious — to be America's leading public university.

"We want Carolina to be the best that it can be, to lead among America's best public universities," Moeser says. "In setting our sights that high, we are drawing from our heritage as the nation's first public university and our strong commitment to helping make North Carolina as successful as possible in the future."

Moeser's bold leadership has put the University in the national spotlight on key issues including student accessibility and binding early decision admissions. Most recently, the chancellor launched the Carolina Covenant, a groundbreaking initiative to make a Chapel Hill education possible, debt-free, for low-income students beginning in the fall of 2004. The Carolina Covenant was a first for a major U.S. public university when it was announced in 2003. Several major campuses, including Harvard, Virginia and Maryland, later created similar programs. Carolina has since expanded the Carolina Covenant to cover more students and add a mentorship program with faculty volunteers.

The University's ties to North Carolina are so important that Moeser launched a new effort to strengthen the connections between Carolina and the lives of state citizens and their communities. Through his "Carolina Connects" initiative, Moeser is traveling the state to highlight the many ways in which the University serves the communities and people of North Carolina. He also is seeking out opportunities to learn about other ways Carolina can connect with the state and its issues.

"Our message is that the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill serves North Carolina every day in meaningful, relevant ways," Moeser says. "In short, 'Carolina Connects.' The University has always played a significant leadership role in the life of North Carolina. I firmly believe that this university has the power to make a difference."

When Moeser began as chancellor in August 2000, his first challenge was to help secure support for the $3.1 billion bond referendum for higher education. The referendum, overwhelmingly approved by voters three months later, was the nation's largest higher education bond package. Moeser pledged to North Carolinians that if they passed the bond referendum, Carolina would triple their investment through private fund-raising efforts.

Carolina has made good on Moeser's pledge. The bonds alone mean $510 million worth of renovations, repairs and new buildings on the Chapel Hill campus so twenty-first century students can learn in a twenty-first century environment. Guided by a visionary master plan for growth now rapidly coming to life, the University is investing another $600 million from non-state sources including private gifts for other buildings essential to excellence. The resulting capital construction program is believed to be among the largest at any major American university.

Moeser announced the University's $1.8 billion goal for the Carolina First Campaign in October 2002. The multi-year private fund-raising effort is helping position Carolina as the nation's leading public university. By 2005 the campaign had surpassed the $1.41 billion mark in gifts and pledges from alumni and friends. Carolina First has created 133 new endowed professorships toward a total goal of 200 and 465 new scholarships and fellowships for students toward a target of 1,000. Faculty support and the quality of students and facilities are among key campaign priorities.

Under Moeser's leadership, the University last year completed an academic plan to guide future decisions and investments in academic priorities. Early in his tenure, Moeser acted decisively to launch a campuswide initiative committing at least $245 million over the next decade to genome sciences. The public-private partnership received an anonymous $25 million gift for a proteomics research center. Evidence of success includes the School of Public Health's selection by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to house one of the nation's three centers of excellence for genomics and public health.

Attracting research funds is among the contributions the University makes to the North Carolina economy, and Carolina has steadily improved during the Moeser era. Overall, the Carolina faculty set another University record last fiscal year for sponsored research funding, attracting more than $577 million. The University consistently ranks among the top public and private universities receiving funding from the National Institutes of Health and the National Science Foundation.

Such success in the sciences is balanced by an equal commitment to the arts and humanities — which will benefit from planned facility improvements — as well as to the University Library, perennially ranked among the best research libraries in North America, and to key resources such as the Center for the Study of the American South. "We are committed to providing our students and citizens with the finest in the arts and to preserving the magnificent architectural archive of the historic campus," Moeser says. "We express and teach our values by what we build."

The chancellor has strongly supported efforts to enhance undergraduate education and improve the student judiciary and Honor Court systems. Moeser has championed the University's longtime commitment to diversity and an open intellectual community. In 2003-04 he co-chaired a Chancellor's Task Force for a Better Workplace that produced recommendations that are improving working conditions for employees.

Moeser was unanimously elected chancellor in April 2000 by the UNC Board of Governors and arrived after four years as chancellor of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, where he was credited with strengthening academics and fund-raising.

A concert organist, Moeser began his career in 1966 at the University of Kansas as assistant professor and chair of the organ department. He became dean of the School of Fine Arts in 1975 and later was named Althaus Distinguished Professor of Organ. In 1986 he joined The Pennsylvania State University as dean of the College of Arts and Architecture and executive director of University Arts Services. Six years later Moeser became vice president for academic affairs and provost of the University of South Carolina, a post he held until becoming Nebraska's chancellor in 1996.

The chancellor recently was elected to the Board of Directors of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. He serves on two Association of American University committees examining the cost of research and internationalization. He is a past member of the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges and chaired its technology transfer commission. He also served on the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities.

Moeser often is invited to speak at major national education meetings about topics including accessibility and academic freedom. He is on the CEO Group of Six, a group of university presidents and chancellors from each of the nation's major athletic conferences that has tackled issues including academic reform. Recently approved NCAA changes mirrored proposals the CEO group had discussed for some time.

Moeser is a member of the North Carolina Board of Science and Technology, a trustee of the North Carolina Symphony Society Inc., and a member of the Greater Triangle Regional Council.

A native of Colorado City, Texas, Moeser grew up in Lubbock and graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a bachelor of music degree with honors in 1961 and a master of music in musicology in 1964. The Graduate School at Texas honored him with its 2001 Outstanding Alumnus Award. He studied in Berlin and Paris on a Fulbright Scholarship and earned a doctorate from the University of Michigan in 1967. A past president of the American Guild of Organists, Moeser performed widely as a concert organist.

Moeser is married to Dr. Susan Dickerson Moeser, a fellow concert organist and music lecturer and University organist at Carolina. His children are a son, Chris, an attorney in Phoenix, Arizona, and a daughter, Carter, a physical therapist in Tacoma, Washington.

J. Walker Smith

J. Walker Smith is president of Yankelovich Partners, Inc., a marketing services consultancy offering marketing productivity solutions and specializing in lifestyle trends and customer targeting solutions. Smith is co-author of Rocking the Ages: The Yankelovich Report on Generational Marketing (1997), a highly regarded assessment of generational marketing strategies, and Life Is Not Work, Work Is Not Life: Simple Reminders for Finding Balance in a 24/7 World (2001), a collection of short essays and personal reflections on work/life balance chosen by the Wall Street Journal as one of the ten best work-life books of 2001. His latest book is Coming to Concurrence: Addressable Attitudes and the New Model for Marketing Productivity (2004), excerpts of which have been published in BrandWeek, DIRECT, and AdAge POINT magazines.

Described by Fortune magazine as "one of America's leading analysts on consumer trends," Smith is a much sought-after speaker and authority on social trends in America whose quotable insights appear regularly in the national media and business press. He does a weekly commentary called "City Views" for Smart City, a public radio show about cities and community life broadcast by WKNO-FM in Memphis, as well as regular columns in Marketing Management and DIRECT magazines.

Prior to Yankelovich, Smith was director of research for DowBrands, Inc. He was a summer lecturer at the annual School of Marketing Research at the University of Notre Dame for fourteen years and he is a past vice president of the marketing research division of the American Marketing Association. He is a director of Ptek Holdings and a member of the board of advisors for the School of Journalism and Mass Communication at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill as well as the board of directors for the American Marketing Association Foundation. Smith holds three degrees from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, including a doctorate in mass communication research. He and his wife, Joy, live in Atlanta, Georgia.

Peter John Gomes
Doctor of Divinity

Peter John Gomes is Plummer Professor of Christian Morals, Pusey Minister of the Memorial Church of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and chaplain of Harvard University. A member of the faculty of Arts and Sciences and the faculty of Divinity at Harvard, Gomes holds degrees from Bates College and the Harvard Divinity School and is an ordained American Baptist minister. He has received Harvard's Phi Beta Kappa Teaching Award, and is an Honorary Fellow of Emmanuel College of The University of Cambridge, where the Gomes Lectureship is established in his name. Widely regarded as one of America's most distinguished preachers, Gomes has preached and lectured throughout the United States and the British Isles. In 2001 he served as missioner to Oxford University, preaching a series of talks in the University Church of St. Mary the Virgin. In 2000 he delivered the University Sermon before The University of Cambridge, England, and preached the Millennial Sermon in Canterbury Cathedral. He is frequently heard from the pulpit of Duke Chapel. He was named Clergy of the Year in 1998 by Religion in American Life and participated in the presidential inaugurations of Ronald Reagan and George Herbert Walker Bush. His books include the best-seller The Good Book: Reading the Bible with Mind and Heart (1996) and Sermons: Biblical Wisdom for Daily Living (1998). Gomes grew up in Plymouth, Massachusetts, where he preached even while in high school. There, he became director of the Pilgrim Museum while still a lad, and began to gather an enormous wealth of information about New England's pilgrims and puritans. His friends characterize him as a person of honesty, compassion, warmth, energy, and intelligence that one meets but rarely in a lifetime. Gomes has been profiled by Robert Boynton in The New Yorker and interviewed by Morley Safer on 60 Minutes. In 1999 Talk magazine included him in its feature article, "The Best Talkers in America: Fifty Big Mouths We Hope Will Never Shut Up."

FRANK BORDEN HANES
DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

Few indeed have done more to promote the arts and humanities at Carolina than Frank Borden Hanes, Class of 1942. He was the founding chair of the Arts and Sciences Foundation. He has been instrumental in endowing the Frank Borden Hanes and Barbara Lasater Hanes Professorship in English, the Wilmer K. Borden Fellowship in the Institute for the Arts and Humanities, the Austin H. Carr Distinguished Professorship in the College of Arts and Sciences, the James Borden Hanes Professorship in the Humanities, the Hanes-Willis Visiting Professorship, and the Thomas Wolfe Scholarship in Creative Writing. As trustee of the John W. and Anna H. Hanes Foundation, Frank Hanes has seen that the foundation has funded each of our library's millionth-volume acquisitions. Beginning in 1960, Hanes started a family tradition by presenting John Gower's Confessio Amantis, a rare and significant volume published in 1483. The two-millionth volume came in 1974: it was Dame Juliana Berner's Book of Hawking and Heraldry (1846), the first English book with color printing. The three-millionth volume (1984) was part of the Estienne Collection — 300 of the best books produced by the Estienne family, a sixteenth-century dynasty of printers and publishers. Just four years later, the four-millionth volume was Anne Bradstreet's Several Poems (1678), the first book of poetry by a woman published in America. In 2000 the five-millionth volume was included in a significant collection of work by William Butler Yeats — the largest important collection then in private hands. This record of rare book philanthropy by a single family is unique in the United States. Hanes also supported acquisition of the papers of Shelby Foote and Walker Percy, and just recently created the Harry K. Russell and Dougald McMillan Library Endowment. Not content to merely admire the creativity of others, Hanes is himself the author of seven literary works, earning the Sir Walter Raleigh Award for Fiction in 1961, a nomination for the Pulitzer Prize, and the Roanoke-Chowan Award for Poetry of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association.

Nannerl Overholser Keohane

Doctor of Laws

Nannerl Overholser Keohane recently completed a decade of extraordinary service as president of Duke University. Her tenure there was characterized by an unprecedented expansion of fruitful interaction between the faculty and student bodies of Carolina and Duke. To mention but one such collaboration, Keohane, in partnership with Chancellor Michael Hooker, encouraged and nurtured the creation of the Robertson Scholars Program. Last year Chancellor James Moeser announced the creation of the Nan Keohane Visiting Professorship, a joint endowment by Julian and Josie Robertson and the William Rand Kenan Jr. Foundation that will bring outstanding scholars here to offer courses and seminars at both our institutions. A prolific scholar in the fields of political philosophy, feminism, and education, Keohane is the author of Philosophy and the State in France: The Renaissance to the Enlightenment (1980) and is co-editor with Barbara Gelpi and Michelle Rosaldo of Feminist Theory: A Critique of Ideology (1982). Keohane is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Philosophical Society, a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, and a member of the Overseers Committee to Visit the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard. On July 1 she will become one of the seven members of Harvard's top governing board, the Harvard Corporation. She was inducted into the National Women's Hall of Fame in 1995, and in 2003 received one of the first Marshall Medals honoring the fiftieth anniversary of the Marshall Scholarships. Keohane is an alumna of Wellesley College, Class of 1961, where she graduated Phi Beta Kappa with honors in political science. She was awarded a Marshall Scholarship to Oxford University where she earned a combined bachelor's/master's degree at St. Anne's College with First Class Honours in philosophy, politics, and economics. She earned her Ph.D. in 1967 from Yale University where she held a Sterling Fellowship. Before assuming the presidency at Wellesley, Keohane taught at Swarthmore College, the University of Pennsylvania, and Stanford University. At Stanford she chaired the faculty senate and was honored for excellence in teaching. She has now returned to Stanford as a fellow at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences.

Anand Panyarachun

Doctor of Laws

Anand Panyarachun, respectfully known as Khun Anand to the Thai people, is a towering figure in Southeast Asia, a key leader in international affairs, a devoted champion of democracy and reconciliation in his native land, and the founding chair of the Kenan Institute Asia. During two terms as prime minister of Thailand in 1991 and 1992, he was instrumental in halting the militarization of politics in that nation and helped lead its people back to the path of democracy. In March 2005 Thailand's prime minister called on Khun Anand to set up a National Reconciliation Commission to look into and make recommendations on an insurgency that has racked the nation's mainly Muslim southern provinces. On the international stage, Khun Anand headed the 2004 High-level Panel on Threats, Challenges, and Change charged by the United Nations with looking at how the international community could address new and evolving security threats, and making recommendations for reforming the United Nations. The panel's report won the strong support of Secretary General Kofi Annan. Khun Anand has quietly made a major contribution to Carolina and the State of North Carolina through his pivotal role in founding and leading the Kenan Institute Asia. The institute works to build partnerships between Asian and American organizations in areas such as education, public health, environmental management, and better business practices. Khun Anand led the institute to champion sustainable economic and social development in Southeast Asia based on a model that emphasizes partnership relations between the nations of the region and the United States, rather than a donor-recipient relationship that often frustrates true development.

Notes on Academic Dress

The following information, condensed from An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide and published by the American Council on Education, may be helpful in identifying academic attire worn during today's ceremony.

The history of academic dress dates back to the European Middle Ages when scholars at the oldest universities were clerics. Capes with hoods and warm caps were needed in cold, drafty buildings. The desire for a uniform appearance ("well born, well turned-out, and somewhat learned," read one medieval formula) and for marks to distinguish bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree candidates led to the development of today's academic costume.

In 1895 representatives from American colleges and universities met at Columbia University and fashioned a standard code of academic dress for this country. The code, modified in 1959, is still in force. The costumes, colors, trimmings, and patterns you see are traditional, and refer to the specific degree and field of study.

The bachelor's gown, designed to be worn closed, has pointed sleeves. The master's gown, which may be worn open or closed, has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, that hangs nearly to the ground; the back part of its oblong shape is square cut and the arc in the front is cut away. The doctor's gown may be worn open or closed, and has bell-shaped sleeves.

Bachelors' and masters' gowns are untrimmed. Doctors' gowns are usually faced with black velvet, with three bars across the sleeves, although the color of the velvet may vary according to the field of study. Some doctoral candidates may wear a unique Carolina blue gown that features dark blue facings and crossbars outlined in white piping and bearing the University's shield supported by torches of learning. Hoods, which differ in length for the three degrees, are lined with official colors of the university or college that conferred the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Some colors you will see on faculty and administrators' robes are: the crimson of Harvard, the maroon of Chicago, the light blue and white of North Carolina, the orange and black of Princeton, and the dark blue of Yale.

Hoods also are edged and bound with velvet in the color appropriate to the field of study. You will see many hoods in our procession edged with dark blue, for doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.). The colors in the hoods and gowns of faculty represent the following fields in which degrees were taken:

Apricot: Nursing
Brown: Fine Arts
Citron: Social Work
Crimson: Journalism
Dark Blue: Philosophy
Golden Yellow: Science
Green: Medicine
Lemon Yellow: Library Science
Light Blue: Education
Lilac: Dentistry
Olive Green: Pharmacy
Orange: Engineering
Peacock Blue: Public Administration
Pink: Music
Purple: Law
Sage Green: Physical Education
Salmon Pink: Public Health
Scarlet: Theology
Yellow Brown: Commerce, Business, Accountancy
White: Arts, Letters, Humanities

In addition, some students will be wearing special cords. Gold cords will be worn by Honors graduates; blue and white cords will be worn by Public Service Scholars.

The Old Well

At the heart of the campus stands the visual symbol of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. For many years the Old Well served as the sole water supply for Old East and Old West dormitories. In 1897 the well was given its present decorative form at the direction of President Edwin A. Alderman, who described his beautification project as largely derived from the Temple of Love in the Garden of Versailles. In 1954 the well was given added beauty with brick walks, plantings, and benches. Students can bring good luck with a drink from the Old Well on the first day of classes.

A Message to Carolina's Newest Alumni

Congratulations! You are now a graduate of The University of North Carolina. During your years of living, studying, working, and celebrating here at Carolina, our University has helped shape who you are.

To help you maintain your Carolina connection, please consider joining your General Alumni Association, the official organization for all alumni and friends of our University. We're a self-governed, nonprofit organization funded primarily by membership dues.

As our gift to our newest alumni, the GAA offers a one year new grad membership for only $17.50 — half off the annual dues rate of $35.00. We are also offering the Class of 2005 a $50.00 discount on life membership.

Join more than 66,000 Carolina alumni and friends and access all the GAA Benefits designed to help you stay connected to your friends and to our University.

Online Alumni Directory: Keep track of where your Carolina friends are and what they are up to by using our fully searchable alumni directory at alumni.unc.edu.

Carolina Alumni Review: Find out who has moved up the job ladder and who was recently married in the Class Notes section of this award-winning magazine, which members receive six times a year.

Welcome to the real world: GAA members can take advantage of discounts on personalized Alumni Career Services to help you get started on life after graduation. If you're thinking about grad school, GAA members receive $75.00 off prep courses at Kaplan Educational Centers. Plus, you will get discounts on merchandise and financial services such as health and life insurance.

Tar Heels near and far: Meet new Carolina friends through our worldwide network of local Carolina Clubs. GAA-sponsored Carolina Clubs provide opportunities for social interaction, service, and networking with fellow Tar Heels.

Stop by and visit us in the George Watts Hill Alumni Center on Stadium Drive. For more information on membership in the Association, please call (800) 962-0742 or email membership@unc.edu. Visit us on the Web at alumni.unc.edu.

The 2005 Senior Class Gift

As members of the Class of 2005, and more importantly, members of Carolina's history, we realize that one of the most significant and lasting impacts we seniors can have on our University will be achieved through the class gift we have chosen.

Three weeks after entering the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, in the midst of the usual college freshman transitions and obstacles, the Class of 2005 witnessed the worst assault on America in history — the devastating attacks of September 11, 2001. To commemorate the tragic events of that day, to honor the six Carolina alumni who perished in the attacks, and to recognize a defining event in their lives, the Class of 2005 will establish the September 11th Memorial Garden.

Offering a space for silent reflection, relaxation, or an outdoor class, the Memorial Garden will be available for the entire Chapel Hill community. It will include a small seating area similar to the new Wellstone Garden near Murphey Hall. Plaques will commemorate the alumni victims and recognize Class of 2005 monetary donors.

Anyone interested in supporting the Class of 2005 in their effort to fund the Memorial Garden can donate online at carolinafirst.unc.edu/gift. Donations also may be made by contacting Katisha Newkirk, Carolina Annual Fund, 134 1/2 E. Franklin St., CB #6110, Chapel Hill, NC 27599. Telephone: (919) 962-7015. Fax: (919) 962-2244. Email: Katisha@athena.dev.unc.edu. To contact the Class of 2005, write to P.O. Box 423, Chapel Hill, NC 27514. Telephone: (919) 962-5593. Web site: seniors.unc.edu.

The First Carolina Diploma

In September 1796 Carolina student Davie Gillespie began working with a group of men to determine the Southern boundary of the United States. His instructors gave Gillespie a document to carry as proof that he had been a student at The University of North Carolina. The document, now in the Library of Congress, was signed by his professors and ended with the statement, "We thought it proper to give him this certificate."

The University's first graduating class in 1798 included Hinton James, the first student to enroll. Seven men received the first documents that by today's standards can be called UNC-Chapel Hill diplomas. One of the original diplomas is in the Southern Historical Collection in Wilson Library.

During the University's early years, Commencement at Carolina was a time for examinations and promotions to higher classes. There was a commencement, but no degrees awarded and no graduation.

Heather Baudet, Neurobiology, Developmental Brain Malformations in a Mouse Model for Smith-Lemli-Opitz Syndrome and Their Implications for Autism. Professor Kathy Sulik.

Laura Mari Beskow, Health Policy and Administration, Research Recruitment through Cancer Registries: Stakeholder Perspectives. Professor Morris Weinberger.

Camile Lamarr Bethea, Romance Languages, Can Women Play? An Examination of How Women Navigate the Rules of the (Political) Game as Seen in Contemporary Mexican Literature. Professor María A. Salgado.

Barbara Anne Bewerse, Health Behavior and Health Education, Use of the Theory of Planned Behaviors to Examine Parents' Beliefs and Intentions Regarding Use of Sunscreen on Their Children. Professor Brenda DeVellis.

Anika Carrie Bissahoyo, Toxicology, Pathobiology of Strain-Specific Responses to Azoxymethane-Induced Colorectal Cancer. Professor David W. Threadgill.

James Robert Blattner, Toxicology, Oxidative and Nitrative Stress in Relation to Mitochondrial Dysfunction in Liver and Heart Cells. Professor John J. Lemasters.

Erik Thomas Bodor, Pharmacology, Purification of the Human P2Y12 Receptor: Ligand Binding, G Protein Coupling and Regulation by RGS Proteins. Professor T. Kendall Harden.

Silvia Boero, Romance Languages, Vite Parallele di Paola Drigo e Paola Masino: Voci di Dissenso nella Letteratura Femminile del Ventennio Fascista. Professor Antonio Illiano.

Melissa Kay Bostrom, English, Economies of Form, Family, and Whiteness in Contemporary American Short Stories. Professor María DeGuzmán.

Edmond Anthony Boudreaux, Anthropology, The Archaeology of Town Creek: Chronology and Community Patterns of a Mississippian Town in Piedmont North Carolina. Professor Vincas Steponaitis.

David Louis Bourdet, Pharmaceutical Sciences, Novel Organic Lotion Transport Mechanisms in the Intestinal Absorption of H2-Receptor Antagonists. Professor Dhiren R. Thakker.

Arzu Boysal, Mathematics, Moduli Space of Principal G- Bundles and Fusion Rings. Professor Shrawan Kumar.

Sydney Karen Brown, Education, Working in Concert: Elementary Teachers' Experiences in the Curriculum, Music, and Community Project. Professor Dwight L. Rogers.

William Ross Bryan, Education, Exploring Whiteness. Professor Carol Malloy.

Jennie Elizabeth Burnet, Anthropology, Genocide Lives in U.S.: Politics of History and Memory in Rwanda. Professor Robert E. Daniels.

Ru Cao, Genetics and Molecular Biology, Histone Methylation in Polycomb Silencing. Professor Yi Zhang.

George Albert Capuano, Biostatistics, A Joint Latent Autoregressive Model for Patient Dropout and Longitudinal Health-Related Quality of Life Subject to Informative Missingness. Professor Pranab Kumar Sen.

Madeline Marie Carrig, Psychology, Detection of Multivariate Outliers in Behavioral Sciences Data. Professor Patrick Curran.

Joan Robert Cates, Journalism and Mass Communication, Setting the News Media's Agenda on Youth and Sexually Transmitted Diseases: The Circuit of Production Consumption and Representation. Professor Jane D. Brown.

Jingjing Chai, Pathology, Characterization of the Functional Domains and Regulation Pathway of hSNF5 in Tumor Genesis. Professor Bernard E. Weissman.

Brad Alan Chalker II, Biomedical Engineering, Noninvasive Classification of Embryonated Poultry Eggs Using Visible and Near-Infrared Spectral Analysis. Professor Richard L. Goldberg.

Amy Francesca Chambless, Romance Languages, From Passion to Prudence: Renouncing Love in the Deleddian Novel. Professor Antonio Illiano.

Francisco Chamú Morales, Statistics, Estimation of Max-Stable Processes Using Monte Carlo Methods with Applications to Financial Risk Assessment. Professor Richard L. Smith.

Yi-Chun Evelyn Chao, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, Determination of Dermal Exposure to Jet Fuel (JP-8) Using a Tape-Strip Method. Professor Leena Nylander-French.

Vivian Wai-Sau Choi, Pharmacology, The Involvement of Mammalian DNA Replication and Repair Pathways on DNA Recombination of Adeno-Associated Viral Genome. Professor Jude Samulski.

Tiffany Yvette Christian, Social Work, The Development and Pilot Testing of the Transitional Mothering of Moms Scale (T-MOMS). Professor Mark Fraser.

Su-Kyung Chung, Health Policy and Administration, Retirement and Obesity among the Near Elderly. Professor Marisa Domino.

Jennifer Lynne Coffman, Psychology, A Longitudinal Examination of the Development of Children's Memory Strategies in the Context of the First Grade Classroom. Professor Peter A. Ornstein.

Carlton Craig, Social Work, Reliability and Validity Testing of the Multi-Modal Coping Inventory (MMCI): A Psychometric Test. Professor Lawrence Rosenfeld.

James Lewis Crooks, Physics and Astronomy, Generalized Coupled Quintessence. Professor Paul H. Frampton.

Jenny Marie Cutalo, Oral Biology, Structural Insights into DNA Repair Proteins by Mass Spectrometry. Professor Kenneth Tomer.

Nadine Marie Czoschke, Environmental Sciences and Engineering, Acid-Catalyzed Heterogeneous Reactions in the Formation of Alpha-Pinene Ozone Secondary Organic Aerosol. Professor Myoseon Jang.

Juanita Marie Darling, Journalism and Mass Communication, When the Pen Becomes the Sword: The Mode of Information in Revolutionary Media. Professor Lucila Vargas.

Marc David, Anthropology, Memory's Warp: The Cultural Politics of History and Race in South Louisiana. Professor Catherine Lutz.

Class of 1955 Celebrates Golden Anniversary

As part of their fiftieth class reunion, representatives from Carolina's Class of 1955 will join the academic processional at commencement and will precede the undergraduates. Watch for these most recent inductees into the General Alumni Association's Old Students Club, who will be adorned in Carolina blue gowns and wearing medallions commemorating their golden anniversary reunion.

Kenan Stadium

Kenan Stadium holds many memories for Carolina alumni and the citizens of North Carolina.

Graduates and their families remember the beautiful surroundings during each year's commencement. But the stadium's special place in Carolina's history comes not only from graduation ceremonies, but also from the important events held in the national spotlight: President Bill Clinton's speech on the Bicentennial University Day 1993; President John F. Kennedy's visit on University Day 1961; Navy pilots marching in parade formation before serving in World War II; Tar Heel football teams battling rivals on autumn afternoons.

Nestled among towering pines, Kenan Stadium is one of the country's most beautiful sports arenas. Planning for a larger stadium began in 1921 when Emerson Field, located where Davis Library is now, could no longer accommodate the number of fans who came to watch the Tar Heel football team. An alumnus, William Rand Kenan Jr., was looking for a way to honor his parents when the University asked him to help finance a stadium. He volunteered to pay the entire bill.

Construction of the new stadium started in 1926 in a ravine near the campus buildings. The administration soon decided the site was too near the campus buildings and moved it farther south along the ravine. For most of the year mule teams worked the area, dragging out logs and shaping the natural amphitheatre. The workers also channeled a stream in the ravine and covered it, creating a tunnel. The stream still runs under the field.

While work was in progress, Kenan added to his first gift, making possible construction of the fieldhouse, which has since been expanded four times. Construction of the original stadium and fieldhouse cost $303,000.

On 12 November 1927, Carolina played its first game in the new Kenan Memorial Stadium, beating Davidson College, 27–0. Twelve days later, on Thanksgiving Day, an overflow crowd watched the dedication of the stadium to the memory of Kenan's parents and saw Carolina defeat Virginia, 14–13. William Rand Kenan Jr. was at the game. One can imagine him remembering the days more than thirty years before when he played for the blue and white on the field near South Building.

In 1977 the Kenan Charitable Trust funded the expansion of the stadium fieldhouse. Renovations in 1988 cost $7 million, and included an eighty-yard press box that replaced its cramped predecessor on the stadium's south side. The press box houses working areas for the media as well as areas for medical personnel, security, coaches' boxes, athletic director's boxes, and the Educational Foundation guest boxes. The north side features the Chancellor's guest box.

The 1998 addition of the Frank H. Kenan Football Center and nearly 2,000 more seats on the west end zone side brought the capacity to 60,000. The four-level center houses the football offices, locker rooms, weight room, computer labs, study areas, the Hall of Honor, and much more.

Carolina encouraged me to be well-rounded. As a music major, I was still able to pursue my interest in volleyball — both playing on the men's club team and helping with the women's varsity team. Being dedicated to a variety of activities helped me meet a lot of diverse people, and for that I am grateful.

UNC's extensive public service network channeled my classroom inspiration into community activism. Through Latin American Studies and an A.P.P.L.E.S. fellowship, I created an art education program that connects undergraduates to Latino high-schoolers. I recently sat beside my Mexican American art student, listening to the Town Council applaud his design for a public mural to be painted this spring.

*As soon as I stepped onto Carolina's campus, I knew that this place was my home. The atmosphere, while unlike anything I had experienced before, signaled that this was where I belonged. I'm from Argentina, and Carolina always made me feel welcome. Professors' and students' buena onda (good vibe) is definitely one of the things that I will never forget. I'm sad my days are over at this wonderful place, but at least I'll have the honor of taking its name with me forever!

Carolina has provided me with a wealth of opportunities that have built both character and résumé. But the most important things with which I graduate can't be found on paper. Instead, I carry with me the amazing friends I've gained along the way. These friends are who made my four fantastic years at Carolina worth every moment.

I won't remember my time at UNC by the days, weeks, or months. Instead I will remember my first Fall Fest, Halloweens on Franklin Street, late nights with friends and early morning meetings with professors, and when "Dook" lost at the Dean Dome. UNC is synonymous with memories I cannot forget.

VINH NGUYEN

Tar Heels

The University not only uses the nickname "Tar Heels," but the entire state does as well. One version of the nickname's origin has the name first being applied to North Carolinians during the Civil War. One record talks of a battle in Virginia, where their supporting column retreated, but North Carolina troops stood alone to fight successfully. The victorious troops were asked in a condescending tone by some Virginians, who had retreated, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?" The response came quickly: "No, not a bit; old Jeff's bought it all up." The Virginians asked: "Is that so? What is he going to do with it?" The reply: "He is going to put it on you'ns heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

One of the things I have always loved about Carolina is its atmosphere — the blue skies, the flowering trees on the quad, and a cool breeze. People smile at you when you walk by, and something's always going on in the Pit. It feels like its own community. It feels like a home.

The people at Carolina have made my college experience truly memorable. Opportunities for interdisciplinary learning in the Applied Science curriculum and research and volunteer experiences have helped me thrive within and outside the classroom. I will take with me memories of learning from great professors, making lifelong friends, and cheering on the Tar Heels.

Carolina's wonderful professors and students gave me the knowledge necessary to succeed in the future. I also had the chance to climb five 15,000-ft. peaks, to work for AIDS patients in Thailand, and to work at a Wall Street firm. As a result, I learned determination, courage, enthusiasm, and compassion for life. Thank you, Carolina!

Picnics in Coker Arboretum when the leaves change, touring the Department of Defense while interning in Washington, late-night study sessions at Davis Library, tutoring local children in an after-school program, basketball ticket distribution on chilly Saturdays — it all equals a Carolina experience far greater than I could have imagined four years ago.

Graduating from Carolina is an honor. I have formed friendships stronger than I ever could have imagined and memories that will last a lifetime. Yes, I could have received a degree from other schools, but how I have learned and the environment I have learned in are priceless. At the end of four years, I truly understand what a "priceless gem" Carolina is.

Success at Carolina hasn't been about whether or not I could ace a test, but whether or not I would fully realize relationships — with professors as well as friends — and really learn all that folks have to teach me about love, be it love of history, possibility, philosophy, excellence, life, God, or each other.

Carolina afforded me endless opportunities in every facet of college life. I participated in intercollegiate athletics, delved into rigorous courses, and even interned at the White House. Best among my many memories are the laughs I got to share with friends. Carolina will always hold a special place in my heart.
